

Tips & Ideas

Two "greeting" containers

The container at the entrance is intended to greet you with open arms when you come home and it is therefore important that personal taste and style go hand in hand. The following are suggestions for two very different plant solutions in terms of style.

1. Romantic pot

The romantic expression is accentuated by flowers in cache-pots in soft organic shapes or natural materials. A hand woven basket suited to create the proper old romantic atmosphere has been chosen here. The expression may well be luxuriant and feminine at the same time. For this decoration, a Kalanchoe and pot roses in various sizes decorated with grass have been chosen to create perspective and balance.

2. Stylish pot

Let the pot accentuate the minimalist expression using graphically pure lines. A square concrete pot has been used for this decoration. The pot highlights the contrast between the raw material and the natural expression of the plants. Various types of Sarracenias decorated with moss at the bottom have been chosen. As Sarracenias grow unevenly, pieces of firewood have been used to keep the shape of the arrangement together and reinforce the contrast between nature and concrete.

