Soleirolia in close contact with roots and steel wire

An alternative and exciting decoration where the patterns of the cache-pot are essential to the expression. A cache-pot with holes in various sizes and shapes is used here.

How to do it – step by step:

1. Remove the plant from its pot and wrap the root ball up in dried roots
2. Wind green steel wire round the roots and the root ball
3. Stick branches through the holes, crisscross-wise, to fix the plant firmly
4. Mount small pieces of wood on craspedia (branches with yellow flowers). Secure the pieces of wood using clips in different colours.
